

In Conclusion...

by Kern Hagg

If you have read all of my short memories, you can probably imagine that I had a lot of fun doing this. I would apologize for any wrong dates, but it has been about 67 years since I first ran around our home on Derbyshire to discover all of its secrets, and as wonderful as those moments were, some of the details have been diluted by the passage of time.

I would encourage each of you to appreciate the fond memories of your childhood moments, and perhaps put them on paper for future recall. I have had a great number of wonderful experiences since my life in Stonegate, but those earlier moments as I have described herein, seem to be the most precious.

I especially want to thank Laura and Dan Kemper, the present owners of 112 S. Derbyshire. They have welcomed me and members of my family into their home so that we can see the amazing changes and upgrades which have been made through the years to that original property. The home is now more English Tutor than ever before, and I greatly appreciate the love and stewardship that Laura and Dan have shown for their home. Also, I want to thank Jen Anderson for processing all of my emailed memories. The Stonegate website makes it possible for me to share my special memories. Can you just imagine memories being engraved in the minds of young children in Stonegate every day? It was for me and will be for them - magic.
